Overview

Christina's civil litigation practice concentrates in the areas of professional liability and general litigation including complex construction site defect and injury cases and premises liability. She represents businesses, law firms, attorneys, insurance and real estate brokers, design professionals, and others against allegations of malpractice, violation of M.G.L. c. 93A, breach of fiduciary duty, breach of contract, and other torts. She has appeared on behalf of clients in Massachusetts Superior, District, and Federal Court and Probate and Family Court. Christina has represented clients at multi-party mediations, binding arbitrations, and at trial.

Prior to joining Peabody & Arnold, Christina litigated construction defect, products liability, and personal injury matters in Massachusetts.

Christina received her Juris Doctor from New England Law | Boston. During law school, Christina served as an Executive Note and Comment Editor for the New England Law | Boston Law Review and as an associate member of the Journal on Criminal and Civil Confinement. She participated in New England Law's mentorship program, serving as a mentor to 1L and 2L students, and the Community Outreach Program as an educator at local county penitentiary. She also received the CALI Award for Excellence for the Future in Criminal Procedure, Medical Malpractice, Negotiation, and Sexual Violence and Law Reform.

Christina graduated magna cum laude from The University of Massachusetts – Amherst with a bachelor's degree in Public Health Sciences and a minor degree in English.
